HACCP CERTIFICATION

Hazard Analysis & Critical Control Points

HACCP is a systematic, preventive approach to identifying, evaluating and controlling food safety hazards throughout the food production and handling process.

Key Benefits

- Hazard Identification — Identify biological, chemical and physical food safety hazards.
- Critical Control Points — Establish controls at key stages of the process.
- Risk Prevention — Prevent or minimize food safety risks before they affect the product.
- Regulatory Compliance — Support compliance with applicable food safety requirements.
- Customer Confidence — Demonstrate a strong commitment to food safety and product quality.

HACCP Helps Organizations

Identify → Assess → Control → Monitor → Improve

Applicable to: Food Manufacturing • Food Processing • Catering • Restaurants • Hospitality
• Food Supply Chain

ICV Assessments — Supporting Organizations in Building Effective Food Safety Systems.

GMP CERTIFICATION

Good Manufacturing Practices

GMP provides a structured framework to help organizations ensure that products are consistently produced and controlled according to established quality and safety requirements.

Key Benefits

- Consistent Quality — Establish controlled and standardized manufacturing practices.
- Process Control — Maintain effective controls throughout production and operations.
- Hygiene & Sanitation — Promote appropriate cleanliness and hygienic practices.
- Risk Reduction — Minimize contamination, errors and quality-related risks.
- Regulatory Readiness — Support compliance with applicable requirements and industry practices.
- Customer Confidence — Demonstrate commitment to product quality and safety.
